Customized website for inpotron.com

Now, our website has being redesigned and is presented by a fresh look!

inpotron people, our regional solidarity as well as our customized products and their different application fields are provided more closely to you at a glance.

The responsive web design that adapts the layout for all mobile devices, e.g. smartphones, tablets etc., enables you and every user a simple and practical handling.

Additionally, "we" as a high-tech company and as a developer and manufacturer with an own production in Hilzingen (made in Germany) are shown with a stronger emphasis.

Just have a look at our online presence and its different categories by getting your own impression. Of course, we'll be pleased with many clicks and will be also grateful for your feedback or critics.
